

Machine Learning Lecture Sample

Overfitting happens when a model fits training data too closely and generalizes poorly.

Regularization can reduce overfitting by penalizing model complexity.

Cross-validation estimates generalization by evaluating on held-out folds.